New Interns At the Scott County Historical Society

SHAKOPEE, MN (5/21/2009) — The Scott County Historical Society is pleased to welcome four college students into its summer internship program. This program offers students the opportunity to explore museum work in-depth through hands-on experience in collections care, exhibit development, and education programming. Each intern takes ownership of a specific project (or two), as well as collaborates with the group to research and install a full gallery exhibit. These students gain valuable real-world experience that is crucial to their resume, and helps guide their future career choices. The Scott County Historical Society benefits from their dedicated volunteer service, fresh ideas, and boundless energy.

The Scott County Historical Society welcomes the following student interns.

Katherine Glasoe (Bethel University, St. Paul) – Exhibits intern
Chelsie McGuire – (University of Minnesota, Twin Cities Campus) – Education intern
Rachel Simmons (Western Governors University, SLC Utah) – Collections intern
Stephanie Wojtanowicz (Hamline University, St. Paul) – Exhibits intern

The Society also accepts interns during the school year on a limited basis as well as a more intense January term.
